

just says a small stream in the 1st. Subterranean, as you see and find it better.

August 29th 1895. The vessel then being agitated and moved abruptly to the sea, not her discharging ball in the bottom. The Harry found on examination and all on foot side forward.

The first and second parts of the main character and give the state of things when more or less altered and incident; one part of main that things state likely to be and incident; the subsequent connection between them in way of same, incident; and the whole work, general, covered general and incident that it tend to in general, in the work of the language, more or less distinct and, incident and, in some cases, particular.

much riveting and caulking of the hull and timber and and stand, generally, in sound condition; but, at the same time, it will show the light and the time, the undertaker will recommend that, in order to avoid delay and consequent expense, the vessel should proceed, in ballast time, direct from here to Cardiff at which port it should be with cargo and immediately return and may then be found ready.

to L.S.C.

James McTear

© 2018

Lloyd's Register
Foundation