Special Survey due December 1897.

In March last the owners informed the Surveyor at Lisbon that the vessel was on passage to a port in the U.S. and that if practicable she would be surveyed on her arrival at that port. If the survey could not be held then the matter would receive attention at Lisbon where she would be expected about October. The Surveyor at Lisbon now writes that the vessel is expected there about the 20th December. She is now due at New Orleans whence she will proceed direct to Lisbon and the survey ^{be} held on her arrival.
