

13th June 1888.

Genllemen

As the steamer "Redecler" which has recently been under survey at New York appears to have arrived at your port, I shall be glad if you will arrange if possible for the survey overdue on the vessel's boilers to be held now.

I may add that the special survey No. 1 is not due on the vessel till October next, although if desired by the Owners it may be held before that date.

I am

Gentlemen,
your obedient servant,

James Goss,
Agent.
