

The image shows a piece of aged, yellowed paper with handwritten text in cursive. A large, bold signature, possibly "J. B. Smith", is written in dark ink across the middle. Above the signature, there are several lines of smaller, less legible cursive text. Below the signature, there is more text, including what appears to be a date "1875" and some numbers. The paper has a vertical crease down the center and shows signs of wear and discoloration.
