

With regard to the issue of Safeen Certs for these Ships, I refer you to my telex message of the 16th Feb.
You may inform the Owners that, so far as we are aware, the Australian Govt. has not yet ratified the 1960 Solar Convention. The question of whether the ships in question will require Safeen Certificates for the present trade is one to be answered by the Australian authorities but, in any case, this Society does not have authority to grant any exemptions from the Convention as, once again, this is a matter to be dealt with by the government concerned.

Lloyd's Register
Foundation