M/S 923 "DELHI".

As we intend to install a seperator for the oil fuel in the above vessel and to use the double bottom tank in the engine room for storing the seperated oil we shall be glad to learn if this arrangement will be approved if the piping system is so arranged that the suction from this tank is led only to the oil fuel pumps and also that the only means of filling the tank is from the seperator discharge. No pressure can therefore come on the tank and we have no objection to the seams in the tank top being single riveted.

Yours faithfully,

A.B. Broströms Linjeagentur.
