

S.S. "CROSTAFELS"

With reference to the reclassification of this vessel at Hamburg, it is noticed that Mr. Dykes has charged an inclusive fee of £56, and if the vessel had been surveyed in this Country, the fee charged would have been about £75.

Mr. Dykes states that he has applied for this fee, and it is submitted that if it is possible to get it amended, he might do so, and charge an increased fee.

It is further submitted that Mr. Dykes should be informed that in future cases of ex-German vessels being classed or reclassed with this Society in Germany, the reports should be forwarded to this Office, together with the suggested fees for hull and machinery, for consideration before the account is rendered.
