LETTER.

From Brisbane, dated 6/10/06; received 13/11/06.

S.S. "TINANA".

Sir,

The Managers of the Australian United Steam Navigation Company have approached me regarding the Society's Circular of 9th March, 1906, they being desirous of taking advantage of the new Load Lines, they state that the vessels have never been altered structurally or by new deck erections, and as doubtless the original plans are still with you, they conclude that the revised freeboard could be obtained from these plans, and have asked me to apply for same.

Will you therefore be good enough to cable on receipt of this the new Load Line for any of their steamers.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

(Signed) R. S. Taylor.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and a small dark smudge near the bottom left corner. A vertical crease or fold line is visible running down the center of the page.
