The tonnage opening hatch at the after end of the upper deck has now been plated over.

The after bulkhead of the tonnage opening space has also been removed and suitable beams and supports to weather deck fitted in way of alterations.

The freeing ports and scuppers, port and starboard, from the tonnage space have been permanently closed with plates electrically welded and riveted. These parts and the weather deck in way of the alterations hose tested and found tight.

NOTE: The present freeboards have not yet been altered, but the Owners have applied to the Government Department for a new freeboard assignment and the new freeboards will be marked on the vessel's return from her present voyage at the end of May, at which time they will be verified and a verification report forwarded.

The spelling of the vessel's name and port of registry now changed to "KATURAGI MARU" and Hasidate respectively.
