Dear Sir,

In reply to your letter dated 9th ult.

re- First Entry Report No. 3093 on the S.S. " TATEISHI MARU " (Yokohama Dock Co's No. 96), I have to state that the name of the Works at which the Anchors were tested is the Japan Steel Works, Muroran. The Anchors were tested by dead load in the presence of Mr Sato the Society's Surveyor at Hakodate.

The cast steel rudder was made at the Japan Steel Works, Muroran. The Japanese name for this firm is Nippon Seikosho & Coy as shown on First Entry Report. The rudder castings were tested on the 17th and 18th January and 17th February 1922, by the Hakodate Surveyor.

Regarding the modification in the scantlings of the frames from those reported in the case of the sister vessel, " SHIN-1- MARU ", this was approved by the Kobe office as per midship section dated 9th November 1921.

Yours faithfully,

James Brichton
