

T.S. Dredger "Kaione".

The construction of this vessel's machinery was commenced August 1914. It would appear to have been completed about the beginning of February 1916. Since when the vessel remained laid up until recently. The whole of the engines & boilers together with the screw shafts and the propellers have now been examined & found to be in good order. The starboard propeller, damaged whilst being towed in the river bar, has been renewed.

It is submitted that
