Dear Sirs,

S. I duly received your letter of the 2nd instant respecting the case of the Motorship "PALAWAN", and in reply to the enquiry contained therein, I have to acquaint you that the first entry fee of £3 for the machinery of this vessel has been charged by the Hamburg Surveyors, and it would appear from your report No.6225 that twice this amount, i.e.£6 was charged to the Shipbuilders' account. It was therefore considered that in the present case the sum of £6 should not be charged.

With regard to the concluding paragraph of your letter, I may explain that in this Country in cases where it may be necessary to sub-divide the total fees for the special survey of motorship machinery during construction, the practice is to allocate the amount as follows:-

4/5ths for the survey of the main engines and auxiliaries and first entry fee

1/5th for the survey and the work involved in fitting on board, and I would suggest that this course might be followed in future similar occasions at your port, the fees being based

Yours faithfully,
