Successive postponements have been approved for the outstanding survey requirements in this case and on the 31st January 1950 the Bilbao Surveyors stated that it was improbable that the ship would make a further voyage, the question of her being broken up being under consideration. In April 1950 she was still laid up and a notation of "Laid up pending survey" was assigned.

A memorandum has now been received from the Bilbao Surveyors to the effect that no decision has been taken by the Owners although the possibilities are that the ship will be broken up.

She is still at Santander but is to proceed to Barcelona where she will be laid up until a decision is reached.
