2nd April, 1940.

Dear Sirs,

With reference to your letter of the 29th ultimo relative to the ex-German Steamer "HAGEN", now named "IXIA", I have to say that provided upon ^{external} examination the shaft appears to be in order, the drawing of the same may be left over until a later date, it being understood that the screwshaft will require to be drawn for examination before the vessel is fully classed.

At the same time I have to confirm the conversation with Mr. MacKirdy over the telephone today requesting that every facility should be given to expedite the sailing of this vessel.

I am, Dear Sirs,

Yours faithfully,

Secretary.

The Surveyors,

HULL.
