IPSWICH.

Dear Sir,

With reference to your visit to our Shipyard on the 19th instant, concerning the Acetylene Outfits as fitted to the Admiralty Trawler "JAMES LAVENNY"

When the order for this Vessel was placed with us, we were advised to get full information from the Parent Firms with regard to the Trawler; the Parent Firm was the Smith Dock Company, Ltd., who advised us that the name of the Generator which they were fitting to the Admiralty Vessels was the "MONARCH". We eventually purchased a Monarch Acetylene Generator for this Trawler.

You quite understand that this Vessel was ordered originally by the Admiralty to be built and equipped to their specification, and as per details from the Parent Firm, and we believe we have faithfully carried out these instructions.

We now await your further information.

Yours faithfully,

For and on behalf of

JOHN CHAMBERS LIMITED.

BHH/MP.
