Vessel's Name : Steam Trawler "SARAH A. PURDY"

Dear Sirs,

With reference to your letter of the 13th April 1950 and our reply 17th April 1950 regarding the special survey of the above vessel.

Our letter seems to have been misunderstood; We stated re-class our vessels as they became due for surveying, and intended, and are prepared to continue Boiler, Tail-shaft, etc. surveys until the dates of the re-classification of our vessels. We were very surprised when your local surveyor was asked to attend the boiler survey of the "Agnes Purdy" he stated that instructions were received from London to the Newcastle Office that this vessel had been withdrawn at owners request.

If there has been any mis-understanding, we will be glad to have this matter cleared up.

Yours faithfully,

Sgd: L.J. LIMBRICK.

Joint Managing Director.
