Dear Mr. Salmon,

Many thanks for your letter regarding the case of the steamer built in Holland of which I saw the bottom in my dock when at Dundee. I am very sorry indeed to hear that you have to say about the condition of the engine and wish now that I had gone on board and looked at it, but of course you had no suspicion of anything being wrong and I did not see the necessity of making a close examination.

I have asked Mr. Pile to come over and see me on the subject. You will of course when reporting the vessel state fully what has been done because it will be necessary that the matter should be taken up officially with the Rotterdam lawyers.

With kind regards,

Yours, faithfully,

J. Salmon, Esq.,

DUNDEE.

P.S. Who was it that called your attention to this matter?
