Dear Sirs,

RULE No. 74 - Boiler Surveys

I am directed to inform you that the Board of Directors, at their Meeting held on the 9th October, 1967, approved the following as a Rule of the Company:-

"Notwithstanding the Company's present Rules regarding Survey, any Member may, on application to the Company, in respect of any insured vessel, carry out hull and machinery surveys on a continuous survey basis in accordance with Lloyds Register of Shipping Notice No. 12, paragraphs 805 and 807, or any subsequent modified form thereof.

Where a Member elects to adopt Lloyds continuous survey procedure, the Company will, in addition, require the following inspections to be carried out:-

Sea Connections) Lifesaving Equipment)
Fire-fighting Equipment)	To be inspected annually
Anchor and Cables)
Bilges)

Wet steam pipes to be inspected at least once every two years, except where more frequent inspections are called for by the Company.

Machinery:

Crankshaft to be cleaned off and shrinkages examined annually

Windlass to be inspected every second year

Rod and Chain type steering gear to be inspected every second year

Rudder to be examined every 12th year in accordance with Rule 6(a).

Provided always that the Company's Surveyors shall, at all reasonable times, be authorised to make such inspections of any parts of the Hulls and Machinery of insured vessels as may from time to time be deemed by the Company to be necessary.

In the case of insured vessels in respect of which the Owners do not elect to adopt Lloyds continuous survey procedure, then the said Owners shall, in respect of those vessels, continue to conform to the Company's present Rules regarding Surveys."

Yours faithfully,

Laurel
