other commitments to impending operations

Mr. Robertson telephoned from Southampton stating that owing to Mr. Vine's illness, it will be extremely inconvenient for him (Mr. Robertson) to attend to this case at Ilfracombe as previously anticipated.

He therefore considers that satisfactory arrangements could be made for Mr. Collinson to carry out the Annual Survey provided he is joined by a wood expert from Harris's Yard. Mr. Robertson has the greatest confidence in Harris's wood experts and therefore considers that this arrangement would be entirely satisfactory. He is writing in accordingly.
