Dear Sir

I.

"Olwen". This vessel is now in Dublin and is going to have a motor engine installed in her. She is now in or about to go in the dock of the Ringsend Dry Dock Co and the terms of the specification are that everything is to be done to the satisfaction of your Surveyor but of course the other part of the hull will be another matter but no doubt our representative, Captain G Kearon, and your Surveyor will see that everything necessary is done.

"Julia". This vessel is now due at Charlestown and we are writing to Messrs Slade & Sons, Polruan, re putting vessel through her half time survey.

So much big tonnage on hand it is difficult to get proper attention paid to small vessels otherwise her half time would have been completed before.

Yours faithfully

John D. Perau
