Exhibit 10 May

There is ample strength in the Keel Plate, by its extra breadth, which to some extent assists the deficiency in thickness of the two Garboard Strakes. They are  $\frac{1}{8}$  of an inch less thickness than the Rules require for B. Mr Williamson has omitted to state that they also differ to the same extent from the Specification, which was placed in his hands. I beg respectfully to submit the case with my former recommendation to the favourable consideration of the Committee.
