3rd December 1891.

Dear Sirs,

I beg to remind you that the fees, amounting to £ 9.0.0 for the special survey during construction of the engines and boilers made by you for the steamer "THAMES," still remain unpaid, and to request that you will kindly let me have a remittance for the amount at your earliest convenience, in order that this longstanding account may now be closed.

I am, Dear Sirs,

Yours faithfully,

A. J. Daykin

Secretary.
