Then appeared as  $1^{st}$  witness Anders Theodor Hilsen of Golbjørnsvig, who said he was 21 years old and second mate of the "Holmkollen", he was reminded of his duties as a witness and that perjury was punishable whereupon he was sworn.

On examination he declared in conformity with the extract of log. As  $2^{nd}$  witness appeared Sivert Collingensen of of Barbu and said that he was 56 years old and sailmaker on board the "Holmenkollen". He said he knew his duties as a witness, and the punishment for perjury whereupon he was sworn.

His statement regarding the vessels average was in conformity with the first witness and the log-extract, which was read for both witnesses and approved by them, they added that the vessel was tight when they commenced the voyage and that they were of opinion the water during the vessels ralling had entered through the airholes in the lower hold and got to the cargo. Both declared that it would have been imprudent to continue the voyage in the vessels then damaged condition.
