29th March 1895

The Secretary
Sir

The screw Steamer "John Pender" is at this Port waiting to go into the dry dock, I am informed by the Owners, that a considerable portion of the S.S. No 2 have already been done in London, and that they have been in correspondence with you on the subject.
The vessel will be returning to London very shortly when the few small matters still to complete this survey will be done. In this case I presume we must not take any further steps only to light the bottom when in the dry dock.

I am
Sir

Your obedient servant
J. H. Hardy
