Bitto

Messina

This morning I wrote you, it is necessary that the master of the vessel must wire me, in order I might justify why I wired to Committee, in same time, that her Genoa Agent had previously arranged the Survey of this vessel, which should be submitted to 2nd SS N. 3.

I cannot come without the Committee's agreement, but for gaining time you might ascertain of the plating thickness, by drilling not less than 6 holes for each strake, and take also the sizes of floors, beams, frames ect, which are considered wanted. I recommend the exactness of your operation, tomorrow I shall wire to London
