Lloyd's Surveyor
Leith

Dear Sir,

With reference to the equipment of the steam liners Nos 56, 57 & 59, which we are at present building, we find that the underdeck tonnage of these vessels is slightly in excess of what we had anticipated, being 105 tons instead of 99. This would necessitate, under the present requirements, a slight increase in the equipment.

These vessels are 90' x 19' x 10'6" moulded, and are practically duplicates of our No 51, whose underdeck tonnage was 99 tons.

As we could not foresee the excess of tonnage

we trust that your Committee may be good enough to allow this to pass as all three equipments have been made and delivered.

Yours truly,

HAWTHORNS & CO., LIMITED.
