Geo. B. Seyfang Esq.
Lloyds

Dear Sir

My Co-owner Captain Lindsay, who has called at your office this week as to getting the additional year's classification which I understand our Barge "Blanalpine" is entitled to, in virtue both of extra material and salting; tells me the proper course is to apply by letter which I therefore now take the liberty of doing; and I shall be glad to hear you are able at once to comply with the request. Builders Certificate of Salting will be forwarded to you in a few days, but it will be all the more agreeable to the Owners if you do not consider it necessary to wait for this -

Yours truly
Charles Williamson

"Claim alpine"

This vessel is not entitled to a raised class under Table A - If the Owner considers her entitled to be raised under the Mixed Material Rule, she should be subjected to a Special Survey to ascertain her claims.
I may add that the 1st Entry Report does not show it to be a good case - but the 1st Entry Report had better be sent to Surveyor for his guidance if the vessel be subjected to a Survey.
4/7/72 P.M.

The Surveyors are requested to report on the Claim alpine's claim to an improved Clap
