Dear Mr. Barwick,

With regard to my enquiry by telephone and your kind reply by telephone thereto in the afternoon of Thursday 29th instant, requesting permission to communicate the particulars of the shell drillings of the above yacht to the prospective purchaser Major Cooper of London, who called at this office for this purpose that afternoon, I wish to say that during the interval between our telephonic calls this gentleman obtained these particulars aboard the Yacht from the present Owner Mr. Arenberg.

I hope that the urgency of the request did not disturb you, but you will understand that it was made at the special request of Major Cooper, who was leaving Genoa the same evening and wished to come to a definite decision regarding the purchase of the yacht before he left.

Major Cooper expressed his lively thanks for the prompt reply, and I may add has paid all the telephonic expenses in connection therewith.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

A. J. Barwick Esq.,
LONDON.
