Dear Sirs,

s.s. "CRANLEY"

I duly received your letters of the 10th and 13th instant which have been read to the Committee at their meeting today.

In all the circumstances, and particularly as it is concluded the ship has now arrived at Dublin, the Committee do not feel that any action is necessary by them now seeing that the notation of "Laid up Pending Survey" can equally apply to the ship while she is at Dublin as was the case at Belfast.

The action taken by you was quite in order and I am writing to the Dublin Surveyor requesting further information as to whether the ship is to be broken up or to be repaired.

Yours faithfully,

Clerk to the
Classification Committee

The Surveyors, withdrew the
