When the 1st Entry report of this vessel was being examined it was observed that notes were made had been made on the approved people asking for detailed plans of various parts to be submitted.

As only the approved sketch of Midship Section & people were forwarded with the report & no trace of any further plans having been submitted could be found in this Office it was concluded the plans requested had been submitted to the Belfast Surveyors & had been agreed to by them and that they did not consider it necessary to forward them for the consideration of the Committee.

It is regretted that when the inquiry was made regarding the thickness of the collision bulkhead plating, the Surveyors were not requested to state why the detailed plans asked for had not been submitted to this Office.
