

C. 432.

WEST HARTLEPOOL.

12th May, 1936.

Richard D. Shilston.

The Central Marine Engine Works on dates in July 1930 examine at their works a cast iron propeller intended for spare gear for the S.S. "HORDA" No. 938 vessel building by Messrs Wm. Gray & Co. Ltd.

This propeller, except for a few unimportant blow holes in the bore of the boss, was found to be, as far as could be seen, a good sound casting.

I am, Dear Sirs,

Yours faithfully,

Surveyor to Lloyd's Register.
