At the beginning of last month the Owners informed the Hamburg Surveyors that this vessel was laid up at that port and that they desired to defer the carrying out of the above survey until it was definitely known when she would again be placed in commission. In the circumstances the Committee agreed to this inspection being postponed for a time.

The Hamburg Surveyors now state they have received a further letter from the Owners, which translated reads as follows:-

"We received your letter of the 25th ultimo and noted that the Special Survey of our steamers "JAPIX" and

"MELITA" must be undertaken before these ships leave this Port. In view of the fact that during the last two years these ships have been in service only for a period of less than one year, we would be very glad if you could again take up the matter with the Committee of Lloyd's Register in London and enquire whether the Committee would be agreeable to postpone the carrying out of the Special Survey for a period of one year. If required, opportunity will be afforded to you to assure yourselves of the excellent condition of these ships".

The Surveyors add that, in their opinion, the Owners' request merits the favourable consideration of the Committee.
