

S.S. "DIONI"

The class of this vessel was expunged last month with a red line, but as a request for reclassification was received from the Owners, the Antwerp Surveyors were informed on 3rd instant of the requirements for reinstatement of class.

A letter has been received from Messrs. Wigham-Richardson & Co.Ltd. stating that they have insured a cargo of coal by this vessel from Emden to Greece, but they note that the class has been withdrawn. They have drawn the attention of the cargo shippers to this, who have informed them they understand that all requirements for passing the classification survey have been complied with, with the exception of dry docking, but that they do not know whether the Owners intend to carry this out before leaving Emden. They desire therefore to know if the Owner proposes to complete the survey before the ship sails.

According to Lloyd's Index, the vessel left Ghent on 8th instant for Emden, but no advice has been received from the Antwerp Surveyors that she has been under their survey.

It is submitted Messrs. Wigham Richardson be informed that no information can be given to them without the written consent of the Owners of the vessel.

The Antwerp Surveyors might be informed of the letter received and asked to state what the position is.
