

Eng. re^{any} ^{for} filling oil tanks in Oil Carrying Vessels

It is submitted that the Newcastle Surveyors be requested to state what is the usual practice, in oil carrying ships, for filling the oil tanks with water, also the method of controlling the valves or cocks & whether each tank is fitted with a separate sea-cock or valve.

Cr. Lwr. 21/3

L.S.

21.3.06

Lloyd's Register
Foundation

W1551-0180