LONDON, E.C.3. LONDON

Dear Sirs,

We recently took out the engines and boiler of a wooden steam drifter named "Rennyhill" ex "Fogbank", built during the war. and are installing same into a new hull which we have built. As we have to give the name of the makers of the engines to the local Board of Trade Surveyor, we would be obliged if you could trace this information from your records. Unfortunately, there is no name plate on the engines.

Yours faithfully,

FOR ALEXANDER HALL & CO., LTD.
