The Secretary.
Lloyd's Register of Shipping, London.
Sir.

Replying to your letter dated 7th
April in connection with the steamer
"Opland" I beg to acquaint you that the door was hinged on the side of the bulkhead nearest the main ^{bulkhead} ~~bulkhead~~, and secured with strong sliding bolts
when closed, the door having a good fit. No india rubber ships had been filled when I surveyed it.

I am Sir
your obedient servant
M. Paulsen.

[Faint handwritten notes or signatures]

A page of handwritten musical notation on aged, yellowed paper. The notation is written in a cursive, flowing style. It consists of several staves, each containing a series of rhythmic marks and notes. The marks are small, dark, and somewhat irregular, suggesting a handwritten or possibly a mechanical transcription. The paper shows signs of age, with some discoloration and wear along the edges. The overall appearance is that of a historical manuscript or a page from an old book.

[Faint handwritten notes, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.]
