

Italian shipowners, need not to have the Lloyd's classification, or the classification of any other foreign Register.

This conditions of matters will explain to you the decision of the Italic Co. about the "Verona".

Pegli 25th January 1911

(Private)

My Dear Mr. Buchanan

I received your favour of the 24th December past with a great delay, having been absent from home during a long period of time.

I had an interview with Mr.
Manno about the matter concerned in your letter and he explained me that the Italic Co. is compelled to have the Classification of their ships in the Registro Nazionale Italiano by the legislation in vigour in this country, and that, owing to the accor-dances between the Registro Nazione-ale Italiano and the British Convention Registry, the above Classification practically corresponds to the classification of this second Registry, so that they, the Italic Co. and other
