Dear Sir,

s.s. "Aina Maria Nurminen"

With reference to the visit I paid you, I have now returned home from my trip to Kiel where the discharging of the above vessel is meeting with some difficulties.

As to the damages suffered by the vessel, it is impossible to say at this phase of the matter, how extensive they are, and we shall have to wait until the vessel is fully discharged, to find out conclusively. This will, however, take about two weeks.

While I was at Kiel both Mr. Bowman and Mr. Nohr inspected the vessel superficially but as already mentioned, there was so much cargo on board, it was decided to postpone further inspections until a later date.

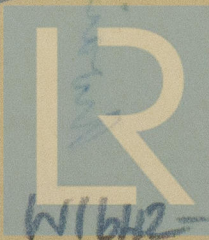

In my own private opinion, the damages seem quite extensive but no doubt you will receive full reports from your own surveyors in due course.

With kindest regards to you and also Mr. McAfee, I remain

Yours faithfully,

Matti Nurminen
