

'VARVASSI'

Mr. Pilditch was out of the port when the incident occurred, but on his return Mr. Peskett complained to him that he had made the journey to the ship, but no attempt had been made to prepare anything for examination, and that a certain amount of bickering with the Master had taken place in consequence.

Mr. Peskett is due to come to the U.K. on leave about the middle of the present month.
