UNDERTAKING CASE.

In September, 1933 the Owners wrote the yacht had not been commissioned during that year and was merely laid up for sale. She has been laid up ^{since} and action has been deferred accordingly from time to time pending recommission.

The 4th Special Survey No.1 became due 7,36.

The case received further consideration in July, 1937, the yacht was still laid up and an undertaking was asked for and furnished.

In reply to enquiry the Southampton Surveyors state that the vessel is still laid up.

The yacht does not appear to have been examined since 1932
Some 2 years and 9 months have elapsed since the Special Survey became due and it is submitted for consideration whether the Owners should be asked to arrange for the yacht to be generally examined.

Neither of the Orders should be used for any purpose until it has been finalized. 28.4.39
