

5th December 1929.

Dear Sirs,

The new Steamer "GLOFIELD" has left here
for your Port.

At the conclusion of the trial trip yesterday the Cockburns patent engine stop valve jammed and on investigation a bolt was found on the lower valve seat. The valve and seat were trued up as far as possible and it was arranged that a new valve and seat would be fitted at Swansea to complete the survey for classification record LMC 12.29.

Will you please give the case your kind and prompt attention.

We are, Dear Sirs,

Yours faithfully,

The Surveyors.
