

COPY.

Lloyd's Register of Shipping,

71, Fenchurch Street, E.C. 3.

It appears that one boiler test certificate 2nd June, 1932.

the two single ended boilers (one of which still remains on the

Dear Sirs,

I enclose herewith a boiler test certificate in connexion with the two single ended boilers originally fitted on board the s.s. "AVELONA STAR".

The Owners state that one of these boilers has been removed and sold to a Firm in France.

Separate boiler test certificates are therefore required for this boiler and also for the boiler still on board the s.s. "AVELONA STAR".

I shall therefore be glad if you will visit this ship and arrange to amend the number given in the marks on the boiler from 17055 to 17055A.

When this has been done the Society's Office at Glasgow should be advised in order that a fresh boiler test certificate may be issued.

The enclosed test certificate should be forwarded to the Glasgow Office at the same time.

I am, Dear Sirs,

Yours faithfully,

The Surveyors,

GREENOCK.

Lloyd's Register
Foundation
Secretary.

W334-0092

Boiler removed from ship 17055
17055A