"LIANA"
The Swedish steamer Liana, of 1646 tons gross, which was sunk in the North Sea, was owned by Fanges & Pahlssons Rederier, of Helsingborg. She was built as the Emanuel by W. Gray & Co., Ltd., West Hartlepool, in 1898.

LL 19/2

It was learned in London yesterday that the Swedish steamers Liana (1,646 tons) and the Osmed (1,526 tons) have been sunk in the North Sea. There were 10 survivors from the Liana and 10 men were lost. From the Osmed there were seven survivors, 13 men, including the captain, being lost. Both vessels were sunk on Friday night, and the survivors from both crews, suffering from bruises and shock, landed in Scotland on Saturday night.

Times 19/2 ins.

The Liana and Osmed, bound from Blyth for Sweden with cargoes of coal, were torpedoed without examination or warning on February 16. Ten of the Liana's crew were killed and 13 from the Osmed. The protest says that the circumstances leave no doubt that the submarine was a German vessel.
