SOURCE OF INFORMATION.

IWATESAN MARU.—Yokohama, July 25.—Japanese steamer Iwatesan Maru went ashore at Kaihyo To, Sakhalin, yesterday during a fog and remains. London, July 25.
—The following cable has been received from Tokyo, dispatched at 2 45 p.m. today: Steamer Iwatesan Maru, in ballast, stranded owing to dense fog yesterday morning, on E. coast of Sakhalin. A salvage vessel has been dispatched to the scene.

LL 26/7

IWATESAN MARU.—London, Aug. 16.—The following cable has been received from Tokyo, dated Aug. 16: Steamer Iwatesan Maru: Salvors report everything has been done but cannot refloat. Renewed efforts are being made although prospects very uncertain. (See issue of July 26.)

LL 17/8

IWATESAN MARU.—London, Aug. 22.—Advices received, dated Tokyo, Aug. 1, state that according to the reports received from master of the steamer Iwatesan Maru, which stranded on July 24, the steamer was resting on rock all over, with a list of five degrees to the starboard side, and every effort to refloat her under her own power had proved to be unsuccessful. The salvage vessel Seiho Maru arrived at the scene on July 30. Bottom damages were reported as extensive, with the result that Nos. 1, 2 and 3 holds were flooded up to sea level, the vessel then being kept quiet in comparatively calm weather with four salvage anchors laid out at that time. (See later report in issue of Aug. 17.)

LL 23/8

IWATESAN MARU.—London, Aug. 24.—The following cable has been received from Tokyo, dated Aug. 24: Steamer Iwatesan Maru: Salvage has not succeeded, further attempt abandoned.
