

S.S. "INCHDAIRNIE".

IT IS SUBMITTED the Falmouth Surveyors be advised of the receipt of their telegram of to-day, from which it is noted that, in their opinion, the Owners' proposal to refit the old turbine for one voyage without renewing the rotor shaft, is satisfactory provided the machinery is tried under full speed and found to work well.

The Surveyors should be informed that in these circumstances the Owners' proposal could be accepted but it should be made quite clear to him that this approval is given on the definite understanding that the machinery will be again submitted to survey and that the rotor shaft will ^{or again examined} be renewed/at the end of the present voyage, say within 2 months' time.
