14th March, 1933.

Dear Sirs,

With reference to the assignment of freeboards to the steamer "FORTHBRIDGE" under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping (Safety & Load Line Conventions) Act, 1932, I beg to remind you that the freeboard certificate in respect of this ship will expire on the 31st instant, and in this connexion I shall be obliged if you will be good enough to advise me when and at what port the Society's Surveyors can be afforded an opportunity to visit the vessel and satisfy themselves that the conditions of assignment are still complied with, in order that a fresh certificate, valid until the 31st March, 1937, may be issued.

I am, Dear Sirs,

Yours faithfully,

Assistant Secretary.
