11th May, 1939.

Dear Mr. Bennett,

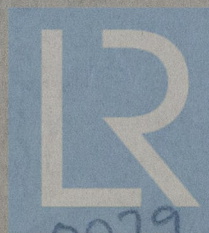

I am in receipt of your letter of the 28th ultimo regarding the case of the Steamer "QUARRINGTON COURT", from which I note that Mr. Heck does not propose to submit a personal bill for the time occupied in giving his expert testimony.

His suggestion that an account should be rendered on behalf of the Society for $500 in respect of the time occupied by attendance in Court and consultations is concurred in and, as there were no other expenses of any note incurred in London, I shall be glad in you will kindly arrange for the requisite account to be sent and the amount taken into the Society's account on payment.

With kind regards,

Yours faithfully,

William Bennett, Esq.,
NEW YORK.
