The Secretary.

LONDON.

Sir,

In reply to your enquiry contained in the classing letter of yesterday's date in connection with my report (No. 24561) on the S.S. "BOYNE", I beg to state that the thickness of the rudder plate is as stated on my report.

The rule thickness for a stock of 8½" diameter is 1.04 with arms spaced 63" but as the arms are spaced 57 the thickness was locally approved 1.0".

I trust this explanation may be deemed satisfactory.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

J. S. Sturt.
