BOUG. — Viipuri, Jan. 11.—Russian steamer Boug was still aground yesterday, salvage steamer alongside.

BOUG. — Rotterdam, Jan. 11.—Russian steamer Boug, ashore in the Gulf of Finland, about 80 km. from Leningrad, is in great danger. Icebreakers have already tried to refloat her, but without success owing to bad weather. Icebreakers have saved the crew and taken on board part of the cargo.—"Nieuwe Rotterdamsche Courant."

BOUG. — London, Jan. 18.—Advises received state that the Soviet steamer Boug, which left Leningrad with 1500 tons box sections, ran aground in the Gulf of Finland, near Narvi lighthouse, about 50 miles from Leningrad. The hold is filled with water, and, owing to continuous storms, it has proved impossible to remove the cargo. The Baltic department of Epron (ship salvaging trust) has sent out a rescue party and the ice-breaker Ermack is proceeding to the vessel with fresh water and food for the crew. (See issue of Jan. 16.)

BOUG. — Viipuri, Jan. 22.—Russian steamer Boug, which grounded near Narvi, was refloated by the Russian salvage trust Epron on Jan. 19 and towed to Leningrad. The vessel had serious leaks which were tightened at the place of the accident before she was refloated. The Boug will have to undergo thorough repairs at Leningrad before being placed in service again.

— London, Jan. 23.—The following message has been received from the agents in London of the steamer Boug: Steamer Boug towed back to Leningrad Jan. 23. Vessel has extensive damage.
