

COPY.

Lloyd's Register of Shipping,

71, Fenchurch Street, E.C. 3.

Enclosures.

3rd October, 1922.

Dear Sirs,

In confirmation of the oral statement which was made to your Representative to-day, I beg to acquaint you that the case of your steamer "MUREX" received the consideration of the Committee this morning, and that the vessel was duly classed 100A1, Carrying Petroleum in Bulk, subject to a further examination of the tow lines being made on the vessel's return from her present voyage.

Mr. Knight, of the Director of Dockyards Department of the Admiralty, telephoned to this Office this morning stating that the Admiralty are agreeable to the certificates being handed to you direct, and I have therefore the pleasure to enclose herewith certificates on the hull, machinery and donkey boiler.

I am, Dear Sirs,

Yours faithfully,

Assistant to the Secretary.

Messrs. The Anglo-Saxon Petroleum Co., Ltd.,
St. Helen's Court,
Great St. Helen's,
E.C.3.

© 2020

Lloyd's Register
Foundation
W 369-0157